Hi Kristen. Sorry, I didn't open my email until after the discussion with WDNR, so I didn't see your note until now. WDNR made it clear this morning that they would like to review the data model before taking up specific monitoring well location recommendations. Lac du Flambeau, on the other hand, has consistently stated its reservations about releasing the model without clarification on source data and comment incorporation. I believe you can expect to hear from Bob Egan and LCD very soon to identify and resolve issues related to model release. 11 May 2017 is the date tentatively available to resume the three-party discussion. Please let me know if TIAO can be of any help along the way.
